

The Bush House

MADIKWE GAME RESERVE

welcome

feel at home

A home away from home, somewhere special, a place to kick off your shoes, unwind and head on down to the waterhole to relax with a drink in hand.

One of the original farmhouses in the area the Bush House has grown into a home in the bush – an informal lodge that wants guests to feel part of the family.

Dinners in the Boma under black, inky skies with the stars for lights are truly special. Scrumptious meals and delicious South African wines are all part of being at home, where you lose track of time and the loudest noise is the crickets.

Our garden is filled with colourful trees and creepers. The rolling green grass is the perfect vantage point to watch the birds, see what is coming to the waterhole or relax in the shade with a book.

We welcome children at the lodge and on game drives at the discretion of our guide. We take the children for their own special games drive if they are too young to accompany adults. Discover the fascination of dung beetles and butterflies. Investigate plants and stones and explore the bush around camp.

relax

Set in the malaria free Madikwe Game Reserve this owner managed lodge combines the relaxed informality of being at home with the magic of being part of the African Bushveld.

Whether it's going out on expertly handled game drives or lazing in the garden looking at the animals at the waterhole, Africa's spirit will creep into your heart.

Pull the bushveld around your shoulders like a blanket and feel completely at Home.

malaria free

Spoil yourself in a candlelit bath with bubbles or sit in the Lodge's garden watching the abundant birdlife. Between game drives the day belongs solely to you. Reading a book or lounging at the rock pool often leads to closing of the eyes and delicious cat naps.

Watching the Sun rise over the hills lifts the spirits for the day and ending your evening, after dinner, sitting at the floodlit waterhole is the ultimate lullaby before bed.

Let our home become your home in the bush Look forward to seeing you and welcoming you to the Bush House family.
